

Practicing Safe Sex

Safe sex is about feeling safe with your partner, being in control of your situation and respecting yourself and your partner. The program supports education and awareness of safe sex practices.

What is a Sexual Health Check?

Most sexually transmissible infections (STI's) and blood borne viruses (BBV's) may show no symptoms, so a sexual health check is an easy way to test, treat and manage STI's/ BBV's.

The test may include urine and/ or blood test and can include an examination by your Doctor if you have symptoms such as pain when peeing. This also gives you a chance to ask questions about your sexual and reproductive health.

For an appointment please contact a Goondir Clinic.

Who Should Have a Sexual Health Check?

You should have a sexual health check if:

- you are thinking of starting a family;
- you have had unsafe sex including vaginal, oral and/or anal sex;
- you have had a failure of protection or condom during sexual activity;
- you have multiple sexual partners;
- you have started or ended a relationship;
- you have shared injecting or tattooing equipment.
