A MESSAGE FROM OUR BOARD CHAIR

Goondir is leading the way in increasing access to health services for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people by working with our communities and partners to address health inequalities and the social determinants of health. This includes providing effective, high quality, appropriate and affordable services that better address health issues by adopting and applying a holistic approach.

Continuing efforts in overcoming barriers to accessing healthcare are integral to meeting the vision for The National ATSI Health Plan 2013-2023, and a key focus for our organisation. Through continuing to grow our performance, company’s strategic direction and four pillars of Governance – Corporate Governance, Clinical Governance, Financial Governance and Resource Governance, – we are playing our part in realising this vision. Our four clinics across South West Queensland – Dalby, Oakey, St George and Mobile Medical Clinic provide vital access to comprehensive primary health care services in the region. Our staff and visiting health service providers are integral to the success of our service and help create an inter-disciplinary team based approach to supporting client needs and journey through the health system.

Our strong relationships provide a foundation for building partnership capacity to enable stronger linkages with important networks that function to support connectivity between services and client care pathways that support timely access to care. This includes working collaboratively with the two Primary Health Networks, two Hospital and Health Services, private hospitals, visiting Specialists and Allied health providers, community organisations, three Councils, other government services, research partners and myriad of social care providers.

There have been many success stories throughout the past year such as the expansion of the Big Buddy Program in St George, opening of the UQ 4-chair dental facility in St George, being awarded a Business Excellence Award, being selected to engage in two research projects heading into 2019 and having our Performance Dashboard showcased as an exemplar for monitoring and tracking performance.

Goondir continues to build on its track record as a preferred primary health care service provider to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people across our service region, as is evident by the significant growth reflected in the increase in the number of Goondir clients over the past four years (doubling access in this time). Furthermore, 99% of the Indigenous population are active clients at Goondir Health Service, reflecting a high level of engagement, trust and faith our local people have with the service. This is in part due to the importance we place on following through with implementing those strategies that are set out in the company’s 2016–2021 Strategic Plan.

I would like to thank my fellow Directors and our Staff who have all done a wonderful job making Goondir the organisation it is today. I would also like to thank Mr Leslie Weribone (St George Representative) who has departed the Goondir Board during the reporting period. Leslie made worthy contributions to the Governance of the company and will be sorely missed. Looking toward the future, my fellow Board Members and I predict further positive outcomes, including satisfying all of our key stakeholders, especially our clients who we service in our Communities of Interest.

OUR PARTNERS

PARTNERING TO DELIVER BETTER HEALTH

Goondir is involved in a number of valuable partnerships with like-minded service providers that share agreed common goals and objectives.

Goondir Health Services prides itself on establishing and maintaining effective partnerships with various stakeholders. We recognise the importance of working together with our partners to deliver holistic comprehensive and culturally responsive health care to provide better outcomes for our clients. This includes implementing strategic actions for the delivery of effective corporate governance. Having strong and effective partnerships is a key enabler to achieving this goal. As a result, Goondir have established partnerships with all levels of government, non-government, and private sector to efficiently support the delivery of services throughout the region.

Goondir proactively identifies and develops partnership opportunities as well as attending forums and meetings with organisations to drive improvements and opportunities for the organisation and ultimately the clients we serve. These partnerships ensure the enhancement of service capacity to effectively meet identified service gaps and ultimately improve the quality of health care services provided to our Clients.

Partnerships entered into are formalised through a written agreement and reviewed periodically. All external providers are required to use Goondir’s Patient Information Recall System (PIRS) to ensure quality, co-ordinated care and confidential management of client records.

In 2017-2018 Goondir identified over 20 key organisations who we work closely with to deliver the shared vision of improving the health and wellbeing of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander (ATSI) people.

Formal arrangements are also in place with 21 Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) agreements in this Financial Year that commit both parties to the delivery of culturally appropriate primary health care services and education to ATSI communities across our region.

A SAMPLE OF GOONDIR’S MAJOR PARTNERS:

CheckUP Partnership – to increase access to allied health and specialist consultant outreach services.

The Darling Downs Hospital and Health Services (DDHHS) and South West Hospital and Health Services (SWHHS) – to ensure clients in our region have access to afterhours care, access to power and water for our Mobile Medical Clinic, allied health services and accommodate the DDHHS Regional Diabetes Care Coordinator. The DDHHS who is a major partner in the proposed Health Farm Project, wrote up the Project Brief and has provided a Project Team to write up the Business Case.

UQ Dental – provision of high quality dental care services from the Dalby and St George clinics that exposes dental students to rural and remote health, including hands on experience in providing culturally safe and sensitive services to the ATSI community. This arrangement also allows Goondir to potentially contribute to building a future rural and remote health workforce.

High Schools – continued partnerships with Oakey and Dalby and expansion of the Big Buddy program into St George to support the empowerment of Indigenous youth through consistent mentorship, educational support, social interaction and life skills.

Local Schools – expansion of services via the Mobile Medical Clinic to ATSI children attending local schools to provide culturally appropriate, safe, sensitive health care that ensures children are healthy and able to benefit from their learning experience.

Our ATSI staff work across various programs and services, organisational functions and at all levels within the organisation.

“We are united in our vision to improve the health and well-being of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people in our region. Goondir Health Services has a rich tradition of providing holistic primary health care for more than two decades.

At the time it was established in 1994 Goondir provided health care from Toowoomba to St George. Today Goondir provides rural and remote primary health care from its four clinics – Oakey, Dalby, St George with the Mobile Medical Clinic providing outreach services to communities in Tara, Miles and Chinchilla. Many people also travel from surrounding communities such as Jandowae, Surat, Dirranbandi, Thallon, Chinchilla, Miles and Tara to access Goondir Health Services. The General Practice Medical Clinics are accredited under Australian General Practice Accreditation Limited (AGPAL), St George to 31 October 2020, Dalby to 6 July 2021 and Oakey to 24 June 2021.

Our service is also in a unique position as our geographical boundaries sit within two Hospital and Health Service boundaries, two Primary Health Network boundaries and three GP Registrar RTO boundaries.

Looking to the future

Goondir is making a difference and looking to the future in responding to service needs of the population. This includes innovative holistic models that are centred around social and emotional wellbeing. Part of this future thinking includes the development of Wellbeing Centres in St George and Dalby.

Goondir have also signed an historic lease/license agreement for 814 hectares in Cherbourg to progress the development of a Health Farm Project in partnership with Cherbourg Aboriginal Shire Council and a range of other service providers. We now await the signing of the Indigenous Land Use Agreement between the Cherbourg Aboriginal Shire Council and Traditional Land Owners before our lease/licence agreement will come into effect. This project is unlike any in the country and will bring significant opportunities for self-determination and change that will empower Indigenous people through spirit, culture and tradition.

‘Sadly, in my opinion, we will continue to progress at a snail’s pace and not meet set Closing The Gap targets if ATSI health is dealt with in isolation from the social determinants of health … only to be told each and every time that we are moving away from our core business activity. ATSI health should be viewed through more than just a clinical lens.”

Floyd Leedie (CEO)
IMPROVING ACCESS TO HEALTH SERVICES

Goondir provides a culturally safe, holistic and multidisciplinary comprehensive primary health care approach for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander (ATSI) people in the region. Fundamental to this model is a distinctive mix of local community control and engagement, the promotion of healthy life choices, chronic disease prevention and management to enable personally empowered and smooth client journeys. We also have pride in our governance and operating systems that enable our organisation to provide quality care to local Indigenous people.

GROWING TELEHEALTH SERVICES EMPOWERS CLIENTS AS PARTNERS IN CARE

In 2017-2018 Goondir expanded telehealth services in the region. Providing timely access to telehealth services for Goondir clients has improved access to additional services that would otherwise not be available. This has reduced the need for client travel, along with reducing hospital admissions for clients with complex care needs. Telehealth Services accessed during the reporting period include:

We have a strong focus on client care coordination with our Aboriginal Health Practitioners/Workers and Indigenous Outreach Workers central to supporting, engaging and enabling our Indigenous people to understand their healthcare journey.

Goondir hosted a Marfans clinic in Dalby. This service is normally accessed by clients at the Princess Alexander Hospital in Brisbane, however annual clinics will be scheduled at Dalby in the future.
MOBILE MEDICAL CLINIC
DRIVING CHANGE

A medical and education clinic on wheels, the Mobile Medical Clinic (MMC) delivers outreach primary health care services to Chinchilla & Tara in 2017-2018. The service also provided clinics throughout the year to smaller townships for women and men’s health checks. The Mobile Clinic is expanding and now delivers health checks to the students of Tara Shire State College, Chinchilla State Primary School, Kingaroy State High School, Oakey State Primary School and Dalby State High School. The service includes a particular focus on prevention and early intervention to reduce chronic and mental health conditions and illnesses.

During the reporting period, plans were under way to decommission the current van for replacement with another purpose-built model. This should occur in December 2018.

TRANSPORT SERVICES

Goondir provide complimentary transport services to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander clients who meet the Service’s eligibility criteria. Transport Services are available to these Clients to further enhance access to a range of health and specialist related services.

590 people attended the clinic representing 1,595 episodes of care
GOONDIR IMPROVING INFRASTRUCTURE

Retinal Camera in the Oakey Clinic provides remote access to an Ophthalmologist at ‘The Eye Institute’ who reviews images and reports back to the GP for follow up care.

The Oakey Clinic was successful in receiving a service maintenance grant from the Department of Health to establish an additional office, a new Ambulance access and other upgrades to the back of the clinic.

Minor works at the St George clinic included a cemented pathway to the side of the building and a covered courtyard to provide a shaded space for staff and clients to gather.

The Dalby Clinic was also successful in obtaining funds from the Commonwealth Department of Health service maintenance funding for the installation of a solar system. The solar system will provide most of the energy required to operate the clinic and has resulted in significant savings on energy bills.
Our unique partnership with the University of Queensland (UQ) School of Dentistry is helping build the future rural and remote health workforce.

UNIQUE PARTNERSHIP INCREASES ACCESS TO DENTAL SERVICES IN THE REGION

Goondir health clinics in Dalby and St George are proud to house state of the art dental facilities. Oral health has an integral link to the physical health of clients and the partnership with University of Queensland (UQ) School of Dentistry has enabled access to much needed oral care for all members of the community. Fifth year UQ dental students gain real world experience in world class facilities in Dalby which has a 5-chair clinic and St George with a 4-chair clinic which commenced in June 2017.

Further information on the School of Dentistry is available at https://dentistry.uq.edu.au/

INTEGRATED TEAM CARE (ITC) PROGRAM HELPING TO CLOSE THE GAP IN INDIGENOUS HEALTH INEQUALITY

Goondir faces a unique situation whereby its Dalby and Oakey Clinic sit within the Darling Downs West Moreton Primary Health Network (DDWMPHN) service boundary and its St George Clinic within the Western Queensland Primary Health Network (WQPHN) service boundary. This has also led to different ways in which the Dalby/Oakey clinic and the St George Clinic receives its allocation of ITC funds. Whilst Dalby/Oakey funds are determined and allocated directly from the DDWMPHN, the Western Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Community Controlled Health Services (ATSICCHS) of St George (Goondir), Charleville, Cunnamulla and Mt Isa formed an Alliance to receive and allocate the WQPHN ITC funds themselves. The Alliance Model was named Nukal Murra or many hands.

As a Nukal Murra Alliance member, Goondir continues to deliver the Integrated Team Care (ITC) Chronic Disease program with great success in the St George region. Now in the second year of operation, the joint aspirations of the Alliance have come to light as the cultural intelligence and clinical capability are directly contributing to greater efficiency, co-design and service delivery of chronic disease services in the region.

Goondir’s ITC Program is contributing to Closing the Gap in life expectancy by improving access to culturally appropriate mainstream primary care services for ATSI people in the Dalby and Oakey region. Providing a strong team-based approach for the provision of coordinated and collaborative care to eligible clients with chronic diseases, the program is experiencing great success having provided over 2,700 occasions of service with the highest uptake in the 70+ age group.

“Without the Medic Alert I don’t know how long I would have been laying there for...I was very frightened but at the same time had the reassurance that one of my family members would have been coming because of the Medic Alert.”

An Elderly lady who lives on her own accesses funding from the Nukal Murra Program for a Medic Alert Monitor, had a fall in her back yard & had to use the Medic Alert Monitor for assistance.

MAKING A DIFFERENCE...

Over half of the medical aids provided to our clients were Assisted Breathing equipment or accessories (Continuous positive airway pressure (CPAP)). CPAP equipment is expensive, and often inaccessible to our clients due to cost, location of pre-assessments, and difficulty of navigating the referral process. Many of our clients who have been assisted to get CPAP equipment have reported a remarkable improvement in their general health. Recently a client from the Dalby region was seen by his GP due to constant tiredness, feeling lethargic and generally unwell. He was having to take many days off work because he simply could not function.

With the support of care coordination, he underwent a sleep study, and a CPAP machine was recommended and purchased with funds available. He now reports that his overall health has improved, he is back working full time in the health industry and is now able to exercise and participate with other social and family activities that had become a struggle.
In the 2017-2018 FY Goondir ITC program provided a total of 2,757 ITC services. Of these supplementary services purchased and brokered 639 (73%) were for allied health services and 239 (17%) were for specialist services.

GOONDIR INDIGENOUS OUTREACH WORKERS MAKING A DIFFERENCE TO LOCAL PEOPLE

The Indigenous Outreach Workers (IOW) are integral to the success of the Goondir service delivery model, as they play a central role in supporting client access to different services to ensure that clients achieve their health goals. Working closely with Goondir clinicians, visiting providers and the community they play a vital link to support services. Helping clients to understand their care plans, arranging transport to appointments and providing cultural support every step of the way means that the IOWs are vital members of the Goondir integrated team.

CLIENT CARE COORDINATION THE KEY TO MANAGING CARE

Goondir’s focus on the management of Chronic Disease for our ATSI Clients, is not only about the care but also the coordination of services to ensure appropriate access is provided when clients present to the service. The Client Care Coordinator (CCC) role was introduced just over a year ago as part of the Clinical Improvement Project which aims to connect care to ensure clients receive the right care, in the right place at the right time. The CCC looks at every Goondir ATSI Client booked into the daily appointment book and flags for the Health Professionals (Aboriginal Health Practitioners/Workers, Nurses and Doctors) the care due, whether it is comprehensive screening or health management protocols.

Goondir hosted the Patient Journey Coordinator funded through the Darling Downs Hospital and Health Service in Dalby. This service provided coordinated care across the whole of the health service district for clients with complex and chronic care needs. A credentialed Diabetes Educator also supported the program and regularly attends Goondir’s Dalby clinic, with Goondir’s Oakey clinic accessing these services from Toowoomba.

ITC CLIENTS ASSISTED BY IOW IN PAST 12 MONTHS

Increased to 416 clients
66 new clients (16% increase)
Ensuring positive outcomes for clients is fundamental to service provision at Goondir which means following up with clients to check on their health and to support continuity of care. The Patient Information Recall System (PIRS) is used to recall clients for follow ups as well as provide a central electronic health record to assist Goondir’s clinicians to track and monitor the health of their clients in supporting improved health outcomes.

GOONDIR LEADS THE WAY IN WORKFORCE RESEARCH

The Integrating Pharmacists within Aboriginal Community Controlled Health Service (IPAC) project aims to improve Chronic Disease Management care through integrating pharmacy services within an ATSICCHS. James Cook University, NACCHO and Pharmaceutical Society of Australia have selected Goondir Health Services to be a part of the research project that will see pharmacists integrated into 22 ATSICCHS throughout Australia. Our service will have a dedicated pharmacist join our team in September 2019 who will work within our clinic for 15 months. All clients aged over 18 years with a chronic disease, particularly clients with cardiovascular disease, type 2 diabetes and chronic kidney disease, will be referred to the pharmacist for care. Face to face client consultations, case conferencing with other medical professionals, support and education for clinical staff and building networks with our community pharmacists are the main aims for our IPAC pharmacist.

HEART OF AUSTRALIA MOBILE MEDICAL CLINIC HEADS TO WESTERN DOWNS

Referral to the mobile specialist medical services offered by Heart of Australia which regularly visits Dalby and St George has opened the doors to cardiac and respiratory services for local people. Goondir work in close partnership with the service to identify high risk clients and help coordinate their care.
Holistic child and maternal health care making a difference in the region
CHILD AND MATERNAL HEALTH SERVICES

Goondir Child and Maternal Health Services strive to provide clients with holistic, family-centred and culturally appropriate care for mothers and children. Goondir has two Midwives who engage families and ensure children and mothers feel safe and comfortable with the care provided, which leads to increased uptake and satisfaction of services.

Goondir has continued to make advances with respect to child and maternal health, with improved performance on a range of health measures in 2017-2018 compared to the previous reporting period and compared to Queensland and National 2016 levels.

Goondir has performed better than its target levels for birthweight recording. The proportion of babies born with low birth weight has improved from the previous report period. These are both better than the Queensland and National 2016 levels.

Reducing smoking during pregnancy was highlighted in 2016-2017 as an area of need, and improvements have been made in terms of decreasing this level over the past 12 months. Goondir responded by supporting the midwife to undertake training in an intensive course on smoking cessation. The midwife now offers her services as a tobacco treatment specialist to all Goondir clients. Forty-six clients have commenced a smoking cessation assessment and treatment plan and have been actively attending follow up sessions with the tobacco treatment specialist. It is a little early to fully gauge the success of this program, however early data indicates seven clients now identify as ex-smoker less than one year. The remaining 39 clients are still completing the full cycle of the program. In addition, Goondir has nominated to participate in the Sista Quit Research Project which is scheduled to commence in early 2019.

The rate of ATSI antenatal care within the first 13 weeks has improved across the year, from 33% in June 2017, to 35% in June 2018.

The latest figure for the rate of childhood immunisation (24-36 months) remains high amongst Goondir ATSI clients 89% in June 2018 compared to 88% in June 2017. However, while it is significantly higher than state and national 2016 levels, efforts will continue in order to reach the Goondir target of 96%.
SOCIAL AND EMOTIONAL WELLBEING SERVICES

Goondir provides both clinical and program support for clients who need access to mental health and Social Emotional Wellbeing (SEWB) services. The medical clinics including the MMC provide access to the services of a GP, counsellor, visiting psychologist, and psychiatrist services via telehealth. Program support staff including trained SEWB Counsellors are also employed by Goondir and play a vital role in holistic SEWB service delivery.

The SEWB Counsellors have been working hard to promote, advocate and support improved SEWB of ATSI people throughout Goondir’s catchment area. The team prides itself in being a strong focal point in all of the towns within this region, along with providing a safe-haven, and a place for engagement for clients where high-quality evidence-based SEWB services are delivered.

Goondir provides a comprehensive holistic and culturally appropriate SEWB approach that identifies access to support to prevent problems worsening along with addressing the inter-connected social determinants of health and wellbeing. This also means harnessing the significant cultural strengths and drawing on Indigenous traditions including connection to country; spirituality and ancestral ties; kinship; and self-determination, community governance and cultural continuity.

Taking this strength based holistic approach to service delivery enables the Goondir SEWB team to meet the various funding bodies’ (Department of Prime Minister and Cabinet, DDWMPHN and WOPHN) MH/SEWB objective of ensuring Indigenous people have similar levels of physical, social and emotional wellbeing as other Australians by fostering engagement in education, employment and other opportunities. Engagement in these areas is promoted by equipping the client with life and career readiness skills. This is accomplished by building a two-way-bridge between the client and the resources available through employment agencies, businesses, employers, organisations and training bodies in the local community.

“Improving our social and emotional wellbeing is complicated and will take time. But every step, taken together with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Queenslanders, towards addressing the social determinants of health and social and emotional wellbeing as well as removing barriers such as social exclusion is important.”

Dr Mark Wenitong
Queensland Mental Health, Drug and Alcohol Advisory Council

BUILDING LIFE SKILLS LEADS TO EMPOWERMENT

SEWB Counsellors have made a huge impact to the social and emotional wellbeing of local people by supporting and empowering them through education and job readiness skills. For one unemployed client this meant linking him in with a training provider to complete his forklift ticket training and linking him to funding support opportunities to pay for the training. For yet another client it meant providing her with direct strategies to build her skills, networks, confidence and relationships to the point where she felt empowered enough to enrol at university.
KEY OUTCOMES AND COLLABORATIONS OF THE SEWB PROGRAM INCLUDE:

- Activity emphasis on holistic approach to SEWB, which encompasses physical, cultural and spiritual dynamics of an individual, family and community
- Membership of the Balonne Community Suicide Prevention Network
- Spiritual wellbeing including connecting to language and land as a collaboration with Link-Up Services
- Multiple preventative health activities (ie attending and contributing to monthly breakfast club) and behavioral management held at schools
- Regular engagement with Murri Court and working with clients regarding alcohol and other drugs, trauma, grief and loss, and domestic violence
- Working to support clients on probation and parole including skills in workforce development
- WQPHN funded mental health activities for St George with a clinical focus and using the stepped care approach
- DDWMPHN funded a Cultural Development Program (CDP) in Dalby and Oakey which was aimed at improving SEWB through the reintroduction of culture and tradition. Pre and post evaluations of participants highlighted major improvements in SEWB/MH outcomes. Refer to Our Programs section to read more about the CDP program

50 out of 54 (92%) participants reported they felt that the Cultural Development Program has improved their Social and Emotional Wellbeing
As part of the holistic care model, Goondir offer a wide range of programs to target the health and wellbeing of community members. Goondir have grown the number of programs in 2017-2018 including expansion of the Big Buddy program in St George and introduction of our Cultural Development Program in Dalby and Oakey. The programs cater across all age spectrums from zero to the elderly with a focus on personal empowerment and holistic health of Indigenous people.

BIG BUDDY PROGRAM DRIVING CHANGE TO ADVANCE INDIGENOUS YOUTH HEALTH AND WELLBEING

The Big Buddy Program expanded its operations with funding from the Department of The Prime Minister and Cabinet (DPMC) under the Indigenous Advancement Strategy (IAS) being extended through to December 2019. The Program supports empowerment of Indigenous youth through consistent mentorship, educational support, social interaction and improving life skills. With the support of funding from the Western Queensland Primary Health Network, Goondir expanded the Big Buddy Program into St George in 2018. The Big Buddy Program has been kicking goals with over 200 activities and opportunities for youth and young people across the Goondir footprint.

A wide variety of innovative activities were planned and implemented for Dalby, Oakey and St George youth through a Support Officer with assistance from Program trainees.

A major boost to the program included the expansion of activities to enable youth to acquire extra skills and certificates to better their employment opportunities and job readiness.

The ever-successful Big Buddy Beans coffee van was used as a vehicle to drive change for local youth through a variety of training and workshop opportunities. Attending over 20 events across the wider region, youth were given real world experience and put their training into practice to deliver top quality service and importantly good coffee! Big Buddy mentors also assisted members with cooking skills where meals including curries, casseroles, stews, rice and damper were served to the public.

CHANGING MINDSET AND MENTALITY

The goal of our programs is to empower youth through positive experiences and opportunities. Part of this is to change the mindset and mentality of the younger generation in order to break the vicious cycle of disadvantage and bring about intergenerational change. At the Oakey Health Expo this year, we knew we had made an impact when a group of Big Buddy Beans barista's rallied together to create the best coffee in town. Using the skills they had learnt, the keen teenagers spotted their sports star Shane Webke and together created the best latte for him to enjoy. The sense of teamwork, the sense of pride and the sense of achievement was evident on each and every Big Buddy Participant face and is a great example that showcases the difference the program is making in creating positive change for the next generation.

Big Buddy Beans was also used at major education and health promotion events to raise awareness of major health issues and to promote self-determination and resilience in making healthy choices. Workshops were also held for over 50 youth in Dalby and Oakey to raise awareness on important topics including alcohol and drug use, suicide, depression and anxiety awareness.

Guest speakers from Lifeline, Best Employment, Maternal Health Worker, GP’s, Aboriginal Health Practitioner/Workers, Administration Professionals and Police to name a few provided regular education sessions with the Big Buddy participants in areas such as social media use and alcohol awareness and road safety.

With the largest cohort of 14 ATSI youth in Dalby and six in Oakey to successfully graduate from year 12 at the end of 2017, the Big Buddy Program has gone from strength to strength and a true testament to the dedicated staff and mentors who provide the leadership.

• 20 year 12 graduates in the past 12 months
• Over 200 registered Big Buddy youth
• Over 70 registered Big Buddy mentors and volunteers
• Over 100 participants attended events and activities

The traditional craft of basket weaving was a crowd favourite among the Big Buddy youth who were taught by North Queensland Basket Masters Weavers and member of the Keeping Our Culture Alive (KOCA) Group.

“\textbf{I loved being a part of the Big Buddy Beans team as it was so much fun and taught me the skills and experiences that will help me get a job in the future.}”

SUGA SHAKERS ON TRACK TO GOOD HEALTH

Suga Shakers continues to grow and develop with activities ranging from Bush walking at the Bunya Mountains and talks with the Murri Rangers, playing croquet, exercise and Indigenous games, attending Tai Chi classes and as always gaining more knowledge about Diabetes and other chronic diseases. Suga Shakers has also built many partnerships this year and one of the strongest was with the Dalby PCYC Indigenous Sport and Recreation officer who has introduced the group to age and condition appropriate exercises, Indigenous games and a whole new appreciation for the outdoors. Suga Shakers also travelled to Toowoomba to be fitted for new shoes by the team at Footlocker who looked after the group so well and explained the importance of wearing correctly fitted shoes.

GIULA GIRA WOMEN’S GROUP PROGRAM UNLOCKING POTENTIAL FOR SELF-RELIANCE AND EMPOWERMENT

During the year Gira Gira Women’s (meaning to cheer up) group played an integral role in assisting in the NAIDOC celebrations, volunteering at various Big Buddy activities including flower making for the Toowoomba Carnival of Flowers Parade. The group also worked tirelessly to produce various items of sewing and craft to sell at their stall at the Tara Camel races in August 2017. The ladies enjoyed a wonderful day out where they experienced culture from all around the world and showed great pride in the work they had done which received positive responses from the crowd on the day.

Gira Gira demonstrates how group participation, promoted by a therapeutic approach can unlock the inherent potential for self-reliance and empowerment. The women now have ownership over the program and proudly manage decisions, resources and promotion of the program.

Gira Gira has offered the capacity for women to participate in, contribute to and benefit from a group process that values their contributions, respects their dignity and makes it possible for them to create their own group identity and ways for creating opportunities for their own self growth.
HEALTHY LIFESTYLE PROGRAMS BUILDING STRONG CONNECTIONS

Goondir is continuing to improve the health and wellbeing of the St. George and Oakey communities through the Healthy Lifestyle Program. The program continues to build strong partnerships with key stakeholders such as the local schools, playgroups, Indigenous Sport and Recreation officer, Queensland Police, Allied Health Professionals and Mens, Womens and local Elders groups.

The healthy Lifestyle Program in St George has re-established the local Elders Group to assist them with activities such as participating in the 60+ games as well as planning day trips to cultural sites, providing ongoing health education and assisting with healthy lifestyle choices such as cooking and physical activity.

Other areas in the community where the Healthy Lifestyle Program is involved are:

- Playgroup – provides support for Indigenous parents, carers and families along with access to Allied Health providers who attend the playgroup with key information about early childhood development especially for 0 -5 year olds.

- Community walking groups – providing a safe environment for participants to participate in physical activity.

- School holiday activities – conducting cooking programs and physical activity through Traditional Games to educate as well as keep the kids active during the school holidays.

- After school activities – assisting with afterschool activities by conducting cooking programs and a variety of physical activities through a variety of different sports.
THE BENEFITS OF PLAY THROUGH THE WANDIR GUNDE PLAYGROUP

Wandir Gunde is a place for Indigenous families to come and share quality time in a safe, friendly and supportive environment. Children are able to explore and create meaning from the world around and have the opportunity to play, share, connect and grow.

Parents and carers also have the opportunity to interact and socialise where there is a strong sense of community that promotes feelings of belonging and connection. Program highlights include fun and engaging outdoor activities, arts and craft, walks along the creek, plays in the park and story-telling.

Wandir Gunde playgroup have also had a number of special experiences such as sessions at the local library, a trip to Brisbane to see their favourite show “The Wiggles,” and a trip to the Toowoomba Circus where the children had lots of fun taking photos and talking to the Circus members.

On the last week of term 4 the playgroup children had a surprise visit from Santa and were spoilt with lots of presents and lots of goodies. The children opened all their presents and had photos with Santa and his helpers.

WANDIR GUNDE PLAYGROUP MAD FOR THE WIGGLES

When a group of children went on a special trip to Brisbane to see The Wiggles, they just couldn’t get enough. Huge fans of the red, blue, yellow and purple Wiggles and the BIG red car, the whole Wandir Gunde playgroup booked tickets when they heard the show was coming to town in Dalby. Excited beyond belief the young playgroup members danced the day away.
HEALTHY FOOD CHOICES
THE KEY TO GOOD TUCKA

Tucka-Time was a short program funded by CheckUP, incorporated within the Big Buddy activities, aimed at improving knowledge and skills around healthy eating, budgeting, shopping, cooking and physical wellbeing. During the 10 week program, youth participated in cooking classes, a dietitian visit, personal training sessions and a supermarket tour.

CULTURAL DEVELOPMENT
PROGRAM A GREAT SUCCESS

The Cultural Development Program was funded by the Darling Downs West Moreton Primary Health Network, which ran over a 12 week period. The main focus was on improving the social emotional wellbeing of participants through reconnection to culture. An ATSI facilitator lead the participants through a range of cultural and traditional activities and exposures including boomerang and didgeridoo making, cultural dance, storytelling and visits to various significant cultural sites including The Ration Shed in Cherbourg, Bunya Mountains and Gumingurru near Gowrie Junction. An evaluation of the program revealed 92% of participants believed their social and emotional wellbeing had improved after participating in the cultural activities.

During June 2018, participants of the Cultural Development Program were involved in several art projects. These included, painting, didgeridoo making/painting and emu egg carving/painting.

DAY OUT MAKES A DIFFERENCE!

The Cultural Development Program continues to have an impact and make a difference to everyday lives.

The trip to the Bunya Mountains is testament to this as one elder highlighted, “I just realised that I have not had a cigarette all day and I don’t have a headache. When I left Dalby I was a little nervous about coming up to the Bunya Mountains as I never felt it was somewhere I could go, but now that I am here I am not worried anymore. Since I got here I haven’t thought about all the stress in my life and feel calm and clear. I definitely will be bringing my daughter and granddaughter back up here every weekend because I feel at ease here. Thank you for asking me to come, I feel happy today.”

Through reconnecting with culture and tradition it is evident that the trip to the mountains has not only provided a much-needed connection to country, but also created a ripple effect as she plans to take her family back to enjoy the peace and beauty of nature.

2017 NAIDOC WEEK CELEBRATES “OUR LANGUAGES MATTER”

Goondir Dalby and Oakey, partnered with DDHHS to facilitate NAIDOC celebrations at Oakey, Dalby, Chinchilla, Miles and Tara during July 2017. Big Buddy participants were actively involved with the local community celebrations including playing a big part in helping planning and managing school NAIDOC events.

Goondir St George also partnered with local community groups to celebrate the importance of preserving traditional language.

Fun activities included traditional games and painting and were enjoyed by the entire school community, with several Big Buddy participants also involved in the official school ceremonies.

Goondir hails successful NAIDOC Week across Western Downs

Goondir Health Services chairman Gary White said NAIDOC Week was crucial to building and maintaining relationships within the community.

“Virtually every NAIDOC event not only ensured that we promote our culture to the wider community but also improve and build relationships between the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander population and the stuff working at these facilities,” Mr White said.

Goondir Health Services and the Darling Downs Hospital and Health Service partners for the third consecutive year to promote NAIDOC Week events at facilities in Oakey, Dalby, Tara, Chinchilla, Miles, Taroom, and Wandoan. Taroom and Wandoon were included for the first time this year in the DOHHS and Goondir NAIDOC Chevrolin.

The level of support shown towards the event from these small communities was surprising.

“This, in turn, will help to promote and encourage our people to access their services in their time of need.”

Prosecco was uncorked in the spirit of the theme, because of the support of the Darling Downs Health Service NAIDOC events not only ensure that we promote our culture to the wider community but also improve and build relationships between the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander population and the stuff working at these facilities," Mr White said.

Goondir acknowledges the support of the Dalby Police and PUCU which attended site of the seven events hosted by the DOHHS and supported by Goondir.

Oakey Legends of Legend Breaks Records

Legends of League was held in the Oakey Community in October 2017. It was brought to the community in an effort to improve morale after a year of issues surrounding water contamination, the potential threat of the New Hope Acland mine stage three not progressing and declining mental health within the community. Oakey community live and breathe Rugby League, so there was an immediate buzz around town. Many Goondir clients and staff were involved in the day, including Big Buddy participants bringing the coffee van to the event. Goondir and DDHHS Staff and clients formed a team called ‘Goondir/DDHHS Saints’ who played a friendly game against the Pacific Islander Community Darling Downs.

Troy Byers from Legends of League welcomed the crowd at kick off and thanked the community and sponsors. Never before had he experienced such a warm welcome and friendly hospitality.

Goondir Contribute to a Sea of Colour at the Toowoomba Carnival of Flowers

Toowoomba’s Carnival of Flowers 2017 was themed around “Laugh, Play, Hooray”. Several Goondir programs participated in the event including Big Buddy, Gira-Gira, Suga Shakers and Wandir Gunde playgroup. Together the program participants decorated the float which included handmade paper flowers, stars and hand prints. Many skills were utilised while decorating the float including sewing skills from the Gira Gira ladies and Indigenous painting skills taught by a local indigenous artist. It was a team effort and wonderful experience for all staff and volunteers to be a part of.

“We can honestly say the community of Oakey really bought into this concept and that is a result of yourself whether it be through sponsorship, playing in the game or simply a long time Oakey Bear supporter. Wasn’t it great to see and hear the Bears song bellowed out by the boys at the Dinner and again at the game. In our touring history – we have never seen that before, a testament to the strength of the Oakey community.”

Troy Byers
Legends of League

“Was really exciting to see the smiling faces on the children and adults as they smiled and waved like stars on the float, feeling proud of their Indigenous culture.”

LogiQC (Quality Management System) software is also used to assign and track tasks and accountabilities aimed at service improvements. KPMG report also highlighted that the culture and practice of the Goondir service also supports a high level of ownership and commitment to the effective use of data across all staff groups. This is evident from the preparation and interrogation of the monthly dashboard, which includes service-specific targets for those indicators where performance is above the national trajectory.

ENTERPRISE AND OPERATIONAL RISKS

Enterprise and Operational Risks are recorded on the Risk Register. The Board provides oversight of the Enterprise Risks while the CEO provides oversight for both Enterprise Risks and Operational Risks including quarterly reviews of risk.

‘Your service has a mature approach to data quality and in some areas demonstrates a very high degree of maturity. You have implemented robust processes to identify areas for improvement and, based on these results, you are actively prioritising these areas.’

PERFORMANCE DASHBOARD LEADING THE WAY IN DATA VISUALISATION

Every year the Dashboard continues to evolve making it an essential tool in the setting and monitoring of service targets. This year was no exception as many new ideas were put forward to improve efficiencies including tracking of Appointment Utilisation to analyse service access and uptake. Dashboard clinical indicators enables Clinical teams to monitor clinical outcomes over time providing an invaluable tool for targeting health needs and trends of our clients.

QUALITY MANAGEMENT SYSTEM LOGIQC

Goondir’s Quality Management System LogiQC was implemented in February 2013. Whilst only five (5) years young, a total of 41,075 tasks have been undertaken to improve the efficiency, accountability and transparency of the organisation.
IT INFRASTRUCTURE IMPROVES EFFICIENCY FOR GOONDIR WORKFORCE

This year we made the move to Office 365 which has been a big success, despite some glitches along the way. The addition of other applications like Skype have helped various staff by giving them another avenue of communication. Moving emails to a Microsoft maintained server has also decreased our server requirements and has dropped backup times by hours. During the switch, we also moved our setup from remote based, to local based. This means the applications are now running on local hardware rather than servers. It has decreased the dependence on a reliable internet connection for Oakey and St George, as well as massively decreasing our server requirements.

In the future, hardware costs will be significantly reduced due to these improvements.

WEBSITE HITS DOWN

The website did not see much of an increase over last year as there was not enough content being updated regularly. Future improvements include having staff assigned to specific pages and setting a monthly task to refresh the information.
